

Coronavirus crisis: Amundi Services 100% operational

Since the beginning of the crisis, Amundi Services has made every effort to ensure high quality services for its clients, relying on its expertise, the solidity of its system, and its privileged market access, in order:

- First, maintaining quality services to all clients. Trading desks based in Singapore, Paris, Dublin and London ensure the continuity of order execution services for all asset classes across all geographies.
- Second, ensuring ongoing operations continuity. Middle-office and referential teams are organized to continue providing post-execution, middle-office position and reporting services.
- Finally, ensuring ALTO* availability. The ALTO* platform and all the modules are operational and accessible to all our clients. The IT teams with more than 600 people are mobilized to ensure the platform's availability and performance.

The Amundi Services Client Support team remains fully mobilized with 100% of its staff to respond to client requests according to the usual contact and schedules.
